

The Academy of Sciences of Turkmenistan and the Ministry of Education of Turkmenistan are holding an online conference “Science, technology and development of innovative technologies”, dedicated to the 30th anniversary of Independence of Turkmenistan, to be held in Ashgabat on June 12-13, 2021.

The Conference will be held according to the Decree of the President of Turkmenistan dated February 12, 2021.

Conference working languages: Turkmen, English and Russian.

Conference subjects are as follows:

1. Nanotechnology, chemical technologies, the study of new materials, power engineering and technical sciences;
2. Biotechnology, molecular biology, agriculture, ecology and genetics;
3. Information and communication systems, computer technologies;
4. Contemporary medicine and technologies for the production of remedy;
5. Innovative economy;
6. Humanities;

The conference subject area can be supplemented according to the proposals submitted by the participants.

Scientists and specialists from the scientific centers, institutes and universities of foreign countries are invited to participate in this online conference.

Detailed information on the conference is available at the website:

<http://science.gov.tm>

An application for participation in the conference that is given on the above website must be submitted before April 15, 2021 to the following email addresses:

conference.tkm.june2021@gmail.com,
conference.tkm.june2021@science.gov.tm